Search Tips

☐ Exclude words from your search

Put - in front of a word you want to leave out. For example, jaguar speed -car

Search for an exact match

Put a word or phrase inside quotes. For example, "tallest building".

Search for wildcards or unknown words

Put a * in your word or phrase where you want to leave a placeholder. For example, "largest * in the world".

Search within a range of numbers

Put .. between two numbers. For example, camera $50..$100.

Combine searches

Put "OR" between each search query. For example, marathon OR race.

Course Meeting Times

Lectures: 2 sessions / week, 1.5 hours / session

Prerequisites

Linear Algebra \(18.700\), Analysis I \(18.100\), or permission of instructor.

Students should have some familiarity with proofs. And though students need to be comfortable with matrix operations, the course won't go over the first chapter on matrices systematically. Students should plan to study this chapter on their own.

Textbook

 Artin, M. Algebra (2nd Edition). Addison Wesley, 2010. ISBN: 9780132413770.

Description

This undergraduate level Algebra I course covers groups, vector spaces, linear transformations, symmetry groups, bilinear forms, and linear groups.

Format and Grading

Students are expected to prepare for each class meeting by completing the assigned readings and exercises for each topic prior to class. However, the exercises will not be turned in or graded.

Grading for the course will be based on the following:

Grading criteria.

ACTIVITIES	PERCENTAGES
Homework problems	25%
Three quizzes (25% each)	75%

*Please note: the quizzes are not available for this version of the course.

Homework Problems

The homework problems are the most important part of the course. Many of the problems are extensive and difficult, and require hard work. They are not meant to be completed in one sitting. Students are encouraged to get together with other students to work on these assignments. However, in the solutions, please list your collaborators at the top of your assignment.
